This position will serve as the primary point of contact for Plant QA/QC laboratories, addressing requests for instrumentation support, special sample analyses, and troubleshooting issues.

Key responsibilities: Analytical Instrument Specialist

Service and maintain a variety of scientific instrumentation, including but not limited to High-Performance Liquid Chromatography (HPLC), Rotational Viscometer Apparatus (RVA), Fourier Transform Infrared Spectroscopy (FTIR), Gas Chromatography (GC), and Near-Infrared Spectroscopy (NIR).

Conduct calibration and repair of analytical instrumentation to ensure accuracy and reliability.

Identify opportunities for standardization and harmonization of laboratory equipment across multiple sites.

Evaluate and recommend laboratory software solutions to streamline operations.

Consult on the selection and evaluation of new laboratory instrumentation.

Provide comprehensive support to Plant QA/QC laboratories, including assistance with instrumentation, management of special projects, validation of new equipment, and identification of contaminants.

Serve as a backup Quality Control (QC) analyst for routine testing procedures in the CQC laboratory.

A BOUT YOU

Prior experience in servicing and maintaining scientific analytical instrumentation.

Proficiency in operating and troubleshooting RVA, NIR, FTIR, and HPLC instruments is preferred.

Bachelor's degree in a relevant scientific field, electronics, or equivalent.

Demonstrated commitment to safety protocols in laboratory and manufacturing environments.

Strong focus on continuous improvement processes to enhance efficiency and quality.

Excellent communication and organizational skills.

Familiarity with the Microsoft Office Suite of products.
