Position Description

The University of Washington (UW) School of Pharmacy () invites applications for the Associate Dean of Professional Pharmacy Education (ADPPE). As a member of the school's executive leadership team, and reporting directly to the Dean, the ADPPE will provide strategic leadership and oversight of the operations and activities of the Office of Professional Pharmacy Education. The position is a full-time (100% FTE), 12-month, faculty position at the rank of Associate or Full Professor (tenure track). The anticipated start date for this position is on or before July 1, 2024.

About the School of Pharmacy

The UWSOP is a top 10 School of Pharmacy and a global top 10 research and teaching university. The UWSOP is based in a nationally renowned and integrated academic medical center, with the Schools of Medicine, Nursing, Dentistry, Public Health, and Social Work, inclusive of multiple health professional training programs and a robust Center for Interprofessional Education, Practice and Research. The School of Pharmacy has led the nation in health economics and outcomes research, drug discovery and pharmacy practice innovation, establishing pharmacists as immunization and emergency contraception providers through legislation and a new pharmacist provider curriculum. The UWSOP PharmD curriculum integrates world-class instruction and experiential learning to train pharmacist providers who are ready for Washington State's progressive practice environment and prepared to be leaders in the evolving national healthcare system. Our PharmD graduates compete successfully for residency positions with match rates above 87%.

Our culture and community at the UW and School of Pharmacy is innovative and highly collaborative. The vibrant city of Seattle, Washington, one of the most progressive, innovative, and entrepreneurial communities in the country, hosts many centers of excellence for a wide range of patient care and biomedical research. The State of Washington is a leader in advanced pharmacy practice laws and regulations, becoming the first state to recognize pharmacists as healthcare providers and positioning pharmacists to practice at the highest professional level.

The University of Washington is a tri-campus community with neighboring campuses (and) acting as feeder campuses to the UWSOP PharmD program. The UW is one of the nation's premier educational and research institutions. Our people are the most important asset in our pursuit of excellence in education, research, and community service. Our staff and faculty enjoy outstanding benefits and professional growth opportunities, in an environment noted for diversity, community involvement, intellectual excitement, artistic pursuits, and world-class natural beauty.
