Company: State of Oregon

Location: Pendleton

Category: other-general

Job Description:

Oregon Department of Corrections Mission

To promote public safety by holding offenders accountable for their actions and by reducing the risks of future criminal behavior.

Are you looking for a career that will challenge your personal fitness, intellect, and maturity?

What if your work environment could include various tasks allowing you to gain insight on yourself and others?

Becoming a Correctional Officer may be the way to fulfill those goals! The Oregon Department of Corrections' (DOC) next Basic Corrections Course is starting soon, and we want you to be one of our students!

As a Correctional Officer, you will set limits, provide good role model examples, and assist in facilitating positive change in the lives of adults in custody (AIC).

This announcement is for Eastern Oregon Correctional Institution located in Pendleton, Oregon. DOC offers many positions across Oregon – locations include Baker City, Lakeview, Madras, Wilsonville, Ontario, Salem, Tillamook, Portland, and Umatilla. If you are interested in additional locations, you will need to apply to announcements that are specific to that facility.

Relocation Assistance: Relocation costs may be paid in some cases. Please contact for further information.

Our Basic Corrections Courses (BCC) fill up quickly, so act fast! If a career in corrections interests you, don't hesitate – schedule your today and then apply! (Please review the details below.)

Once hired, you will begin by attending the Basic Corrections Course (BCC). Your training is on-the-job, meaning you will start earning a paycheck during your training! Previous correctional experience is not a requirement. We invest in training and educating YOU, if you have the right personal attributes! At DOC we are looking for people with the right integrity, passion for helping others, and motivation. This position is an entry level position. Your first year is considered to be a probationary period including the BCC (seven-weeks training in our academy course, this training is eligible for college credit towards your degree), classroom training, online courses, health and fitness classes, force skills training, and a comprehensive Field Training Evaluation Program (FTEP). BCC is certified by the Department of Public Safety and Standards Training (DPSST). For the duration of the probationary period, work hours, shifts, and days off will vary based on the needs of the institution.

All Correctional Officer positions are union represented — training, work hours, breaks, days off, etc. will be determined by your institution's labor contract. Once the probationary period is completed, work shifts and days off may be subject to a bid process in accordance with the applicable labor contract.

Applicants for Correctional Officer must schedule the National testing Network (NTN) REACT (Baseline) test before applying to this announcement.

NTN REACT testing now available via Virtual Testing and at most of your local institutions! Please read all . The REACT test will need to be taken and passed prior to your application being processed.

Please read the entire job announcement prior to submitting your application. There are specific instructions for applying and we are here to help you be successful in this process. Before you are scheduled for an interview you will be required to complete an electronic statement of personal history. The personal history questionnaire (eSOPH) consists of 12 topics. Topics include personal information, relatives, education, residence history, employment history, personal references, law enforcement applications, military, legal, drug use, motor vehicles, and other topics. You will provide information for each topic for the past five years or since the age of 18.

While on the website, please review the following for a better understanding:
