Still, Bradenton has its own unique culture, and that's what draws so many people to make Bradenton their home. Whether you're walking around downtown, strolling barefoot on the sugar sand beaches, or shopping and dining on the dreamy and laid-back Anna Maria Island— here you will enjoy your own slice of paradise. Like Sarasota, Bradenton shares some of the best beaches in the country, if not the world. If you haven't visited Bradenton yet and experienced the sugar sand cooling under your feet, there's nothing like the feeling it will give you! Residents and tourists enjoy taking advantage of the easy access to these highly acclaimed beaches, as well as boating, golfing, shopping, dining, and walking the many areas downtown and along the water. While there's plenty of recreation, Bradenton also has a strong community feel with family-centered and retirement-friendly neighborhoods, parks, as well as an active business culture. Bradenton residents are only a short drive away from popular vacation spots like Anna Maria Island, Longboat Key, and Sarasota's Siesta Key Village, and Siesta Key Beach.
