Company: Symplicity

Location: Arlington

Category: computer-and-mathematical

We're seeking an Intern to join a team of product specialists, developers and designers in building industry-leading web applications. Our team is building the world's leading campus recruiting software. Deployed at hundreds of colleges and universities, our software has helped connect more than 26 million students to their dream career. This is a 3-month paid internship opportunity.

Responsibilities

This position requires a strong commitment to User Experience expressed through the expert use of HTML5/CSS3, JavaScript (ES6), PHP (7), iOS and Android.

You'll leverage libraries and toolsets such as jQuery, SASS, Grunt, Bower, and Webpack to build scalable enterprise applications.

You'll work daily with team members to guide the trajectory of our products by defining user interface requirements and writing high-quality and testable code based on well-documented UI style guides.

You'll also contribute to our body of coding standards and best practices.

Qualifications

Bachelor's Degree (U.S. or Foreign Equivalent) in Digital Media, Computer Science, Information Technology, or an Engineering related field.

Academic or hands on experience in Web or UI development.

Demonstrated applied skill in HTML/CSS, JavaScript, and PHP.

Knowledge of AngularJS and version control (SVN or GIT).
